

How To Help Your Child Succeed

A Parent & Family Involvement Workshop

In support of the Supporting Student Success component in the National Standards for Family-School Partnerships, National PTA developed the workshop, How to Help Your Child Succeed. The workshop is provided in two 45-minute workshops and contains information to facilitate meaningful discussion. An option for a shorter presentation is possible by choosing a couple of topics to focus on. Parents are given the tools to develop a “voice” on behalf of their children by giving them the how-to’s needed to help their child succeed. The material can be applied to different populations in many settings.

Topics include:

- Communicating with Your Child
- Setting High, But Realistic Expectations
- Building Your Child’s Self-Esteem & Confidence
- Keeping Your Child Healthy
- Supporting Learning At Home
- Communicating with Your Child’s School
- Encouraging Exploration & Discovery
- Helping Your Child Develop Good Relationships
- Keeping your Child Safe
- Participating in Community Service

By the end of the workshop, participants will have accomplished the following:

- Gained a better understanding of their role as parents who are partners in success
- Explored key points and ideas that factor into helping a child succeed
- Identified strategies to apply in helping a child succeed
- Built knowledge and practical skills through participation in workshop activities and discussion
- Obtained resources and information in workshop handouts
